We Assist! You Score!

"Me and the guys went out to the homecoming game for the old alma mater last weekend. At the game they were passing out free inflatable Bang Bats with stickers on them. The stickers said to call for a chance to win an autographed jersey. So we all took turns entering the codes from the stickers. We called and Dick Vitale was on the other line advertising a major insurance agency. Within minutes we received text messages about the prizes we had won. Dan got free concessions, Bill received an online coupon and I actually won the jersey. Back at home Bill went online and ended up switching his insurance and saving a couple hundred bucks."
